WHOLESALE prices will be quoted to the trade who handle this line of goods, and to those who will satisfy us that they are entitled to them.

WE PREPAY all charges and deliver drawn work to any part of the United States at the retail prices quoted in this catalogue.

OUR readers are cordially invited to make their headquarters at our various stores when visiting this section of the country, and we would be pleased to take care of their mail if addressed in our care. We are known as headquarters for the tourists and traveling public and particularly so at our City of Mexico store, which is in charge of Americans.

GUARANTEE.

Unbreakable goods, if not satisfactory in every way, can be returned at once and exchanged, or money will be refunded; transportation charges, including the return, if any, to be paid by you.

OUR FACILITIES FOR BUYING ARE THE BEST.

We have a branch house in the capital of the Republic of Mexico, in which city all the products of the Republic are from time to time offered for sale. Being on the ground we have first choice.

We have resident buyers located in different parts of Mexico, who are constantly on the lookout for such articles as our trade demands.

We make frequent trips through Mexico, New Mexico and Arizona, in search of articles of interest to our customers, and never return empty handed.

Introductory

The Mexican Art and Curiosity Store now known as W. G. Walz Company, was first established in Paso del Norte, (now Ciudad Juarez) Mexico, in 1884, by W. G. Walz.

From the beginning the patronage accorded the enterprise by the public was very liberal, and it was but a short time before we found it to our advantage to establish headquarters in El Paso, Texas, in order to secure facilities to handle the increasing business.

This change also enabled us to pay the United States duties on the goods at cost in bulk, thus obviating the annoyance previously experienced by customers in passing small lots through the custom house.

In the year 1888 we printed our first catalogue, and our mail order business has shown a rapid and steady growth since; in fact we have more difficulty in procuring many of the goods than selling them. We kept our buyers traveling in Mexico until 1890, when we established a branch house in the City of Mexico for manufacturing purposes, and to buy goods at first hands. Our branch store there is now the largest of its kind in the Republic of Mexico.

This pamphlet is far from a complete catalogue of our wares. We list only such goods as we hope to be able to keep in stock at all times. The two illustrations on the outside and inside of front cover show the exterior and interior of our El Paso store. In these elegant quarters visitors can see the largest stock of Mexican and Indian curios in the world. Some of these goods are described in the following catalogue. The block in which we do business in El Paso is owned by us.

The two illustrations on the inside of the back cover show the exterior and interior of our Ciudad Juarez, (formerly Paso del Norte) Mexico, store, and the illustrations on the outside of the back cover gives an interior and exterior view of our City of Mexico store, showing some of our native Mexican artists who carve our leather and canes, make feather cards, wax and rag figures, etc.

To the many thousands of tourists and others who have visited our three curio stores in person, we need no introduction, but for the information of those to whom we are strangers we respectfully refer them to any of the banks in El Paso, Texas, or City of Mexico, Mexico, or to any of the commercial reports.

Respectfully,

W. G. WALZ COMPANY,

El Paso, Texas.

Rows work, each$10.50

This 500 line is something entirely new in drawn work. It is made on the very best linen that we can buy in Belfast, Ireland. This line is especially desirable from the fact that it is made in sets to match perfectly. A complete set includes tumbler, finger bowl and plate doilies, centers, lunch cloths and tea table covers. Our doilies come in a variety of sizes, 4x4, 6x6, 8x8, 10x10, and 12x12 inches, all made from the same piece of linen. The centers, 16x16, 20x20, 24x24 and 30x30 inches, are made on the same fine smooth linen, a grade heavier than the doilies. The lunch cloths and tea table covers, 36x36, 40x40 and 50x50 inches, are made on this high grade of linen, but heavier and stronger than the centers, as the larger pieces of drawn work should be made on stronger linen than the smaller pieces. We employ only our best workers on this linen. All through the work the threads are knotted where they cross, so there can be no loosening when laundered. All sizes above 12x12 inches have extra wide hems, a new feature.

The cuts do not do justice to this fine line. The goods look much better than the illustrations. There are four wheels worked in each corner, not set in, as is sometimes done in cheaper work.

The work in this line is exceptionally good and the designs exquisite.

DRAWN WORK SHIRT WAIST PATTERNS, COMPLETE.

The drawn work illustrated to the right of cut is used in the front of the shirt waist, and the strip to the left is used for cuffs and collars.

This illustration shows the drawn work used for the back of the shirt waist and sleeves.

This shirt waist is made on fine shirt waist material. The illustrated cuts show the drawn work only. In each pattern there is ample goods for the largest size shirt waist to be made in the latest style. The front and back are elaborately worked as cut shows. The sleeves are large and full, with drawn work running the entire length. The cuffs and collars are done in solid drawn work. The drawn work in these shirt waists is not only close and strong, to insure safety in laundering, but it is carefully and skillfully made. The designs are original and typical. It is certainly the most dainty shirt waist in vogue.

Three wide and four narrow rows of work in back and on each side of front, as illustrated, on fine white lawn; each$10.50
Same on pure, fine white linen; each$12.00

DRAWN WORK INSERTION.

Our drawn work insertion is used for making shirt waists, skirts, cuff and collars, baby caps, children's clothes, etc.

It has one wide row of drawn work from one inch to one and one-fourth wide, and two rows, each one-fourth to three eighths inch wide, making total width of work three to four inches. The drawn work in this insertion is done by our most skillful workers. The designs are varied and beautiful. Add a few yards of this dainty trimming and you have a charming and novel garment.

All cut coin jewelry sent by mail post paid on receipt of catalogue price.

The Mexican government has stopped coining the silver 5c Mexican coin. There are very few to be had at present, and none later. They are coining the nickel 5c coin instead. All Mexican 5c silver pieces will soon be at a premium.

MEXICAN ZARAPES, OR BLANKETS.

No. 1615

- No. 1603—Boys' Zarape or Shawl, fancy striped, with figured diamond woven in center, fringed each end; appropriate for scarfs, table covers, etc.; size about 17x30 inches; each $1.75
- No. 1605—Boys' Zarape or Shawl, same description as No. 1603, but larger, measures 24x48 inches, suitable for scarfs, table covers, chair throws, etc., each $2.90
- No. 1608—Zarape or Blanket, size about 43x90 inches, shaded and striped in a variety of colors, medium light weight, fringed each end; appropriate for portieres, couch covers, slumber robes, etc.; each $5.30
- No. 1611—Zarape or Blanket, size 45x90 inches, plain or shaded stripes, good weight, smooth weave and smooth surface; very popular for portieres, couch covers, slumber robes, lap robes, etc., fringed each end; each $7.25
- No. 1613—Zarape or Blanket, size 45x90 inches, shaded throughout in rainbow colors, good weight, smooth weave and smooth surface, adapted to same uses as No. 1611; fringed each end; each $7.25

No. 1615—Zarape or Blanket, size 45x90 inches, plain or shaded stripes, good weight, smooth weave and smooth surface, figured diamond center and figured weaving across each end; a very typical Mexican zarape and adapted for same uses as No. 1613; fringed each end; each $8.50

No. 1617—Zarape or Blanket, size 45x90 inches, shaded throughout in rainbow colors, good weight, smooth weave and smooth surface, figured diamond center and figured weaving across each end; also a very typical Mexican zarape, and adapted to the same uses as described for No. 1611; fringed each end; each $8.50

No. 1619—Zarape or Blanket, size 45x90 inches, same general description as No. 1611, with the addition of having a figured diamond center and a fringed border and other ornamental weaving so distributed as to increase the pleasing effect of the general makeup; fringed each end; each $17.00

No. 1619 1-2—Zarape or Blanket, tri-color or Mexican Flag, same as No. 1619, except that the plan of the blanket is the Mexican colors, red, white and green; each $17.00

No. 1627

No. 1627.—Zarape or Blanket. Size about 45x80 inches, small figures throughout, arrangement giving a general lengthwise stripe effect, with exception of the ends, which have plain stripes across; a two-inch figured border; large figured diamond or circular center; knotted fringe; comes in a variety of colors, all harmoniously blended; thoroughly typical in design and weave; heavy enough for bed room rugs. This complicated pattern is mostly needle work; known in Mexico as the famous Saltillo Zarape.

Illustrated; each$12.00

No. 1635—Zarape or Blanket, size 50x100 inches; ends fringed; ground worked in solid colors dotted with small white figures; exceptionally large diamond center of harmonious colors; 2 1-2-inch border at sides; striped border at ends blending in color with center. An artistic combination of pleasing colors. Heavier and larger than the average zarape. In most of these zarapes red is the predominating color. We occasionally have them in brown, green and other colors.

No. 1635

Illustrated; each$11.00

No. 1637—Zarape or Blanket, size 40x84 inches, in Mexican national colors; white in center, red and green at either end; tri-color effect, as in our fine No. 1619 1-2; Mexican eagle in center; good weave and good weight; fringed ends; each$ 6.65

No. 1641—Zarape or Blanket, extra large size; extra heavy weave; ground work in rich shade of red; large diamond in center; striped ends; much used for rugs on account of heavy weight; each $9.45

No. 1643—Zarape or Blanket, size about 30x31 inches; same description as No. 1641, above, except size; an elegant medium size rug; each $6.65

The Zarapes described in the foregoing list are woven in an old fashioned hand loom, and as the weaver does not follow any set pattern or design, exact duplicates in design cannot be obtained; however, the general design is the same in all Zarapes described under the same catalogue number.

The colors are bright and distinctively Mexican.

The sizes given are approximately correct, though not in all cases exact.

The diamond center, figured border, and in fact all ornamental weaving is practically all needle work and shows alike on both sides.

LEATHER SANDALS.

Leather sandals, such as are worn by the peasantry in many parts of Mexico. We do not advise your wearing these sandals, but you should buy a pair of them to hang up in your room as an illustration of the origin of the modern neat fitting shoe which you wear.

We catalogue three sizes, which we designate as large, small and miniature. Prices 25c, 50c and 75c each. If sent by mail, add for postage 2c, 5c and 10c respectively.

GENUINE HAND CARVED LEATHER GOODS.

MADE IN MEXICO.

Attention is called to the fact that our work is all HAND CARVED—strictly so—and is done by native Mexican artisans, some of whom have devoted the best part of their lives to leather carving, and the comparisons between their work and the so-called Mexican hand carved leather made and offered for sale in many parts of the United States, is as between a fine painting and a cheap chromo. All we ask to prove this is critical examination of the goods.

Although most of our work is done in our Mexico houses, we have a few specially fine Mexican artists employed in our El Paso, Texas, house, to do special order work and monogram work.

Your correspondence is solicited should you desire additional information aside from what we have given in the limited space of this descriptive list.

MEXICAN AND UNITED STATES COAT OF ARMS FEATHER CARDS.

Made entirely of the plumage of native Mexican birds. The original coloring of the coat of arms of both countries is exactly reproduced. Mounted on card board in a realistic manner.

Size 4 1-4x6 1-2 inches, each$ 1.25

Size 8x10 inches, each$ 2.25

Size 13x17 inches, each$ 3.50

In addition to the above listed feather cards, we have a great variety of other sizes and kinds, and will take orders for any special design desired.

For Christmas, New Year, Easter, birthday, menu and all other occasions on which cards are used, the smaller size make most acceptable presents, and are prized not only on account of the associations connected with them, but quite as much for their intrinsic beauty. The larger sizes are on card board, suitable for framing, and can be furnished appropriate for dining room or parlor.

Cortez on his arrival in Mexico found mantles, shields and many other goods made of feathers by the Aztecs. The feathers pasted on a fine cotton web, were wrought into dresses for the wealthy, hangings for apartments and ornaments of the temples. The gorgeous plumage of the tropical birds, especially of the parrot tribe, afforded every variety of color; and the fine downs of the humming bird, which reveled in the honeysuckle bowers of Mexico, supplied them with soft aerial tints that gave an exquisite finish to the picture. The descendants of these same Aztecs are making the feather cards at the present time.

MEXICAN OPALS.

Beautiful as the diamond is, and fascinating as are its charms, there is one jewel that is richer in its poetic attributes and is more lovely than its monarch. That is the marvelous opal. We have opals at all prices, from 10c to $50 each. It is the amount of color and fire in the opal that makes the price of same. We have genuine polished opals with little fire in them from 10c to $1 each. From $1 to $10 they show considerable fire. In ordering opals if you will tell us the size and color you wish and how much you want to pay for them, we will send you the best there is to be had for the money, and then if not satisfactory to you, it can be returned and we will refund money or exchange goods as you wish.

Handsome opals in the rough, for cabinet specimens, etc., from 10c to $2.50 each.

NEW MEXICO TURQUOISE.

ARMADILLO BASKETS.

The Armadillo is a small animal with a hard, bony shell, similar to the shell of the turtle, which is divided into movable belts. These belts are connected by a membrane which enables the animal to roll itself into a ball and present an armor when attacked. They burrow into the earth where they lie during the daytime, seldom going abroad except at night. Their armor, fleetness and habits make them very difficult to capture. Shooting them would spoil the shell, so they are hunted mostly by dogs on moon-light nights. From the shell of this little animal the unique Armadillo Basket is made, by letting the shell of its body form the basket and its tail and head the handle. When lined they make dainty work baskets; are also much used as hanging baskets for plants. As a curio they excel.

Approximate measurements of these baskets are as follows: Length, 12 to 14 inches; width, 8 to 9 inches; Depth, 4 to 6 inches; height, 10 to 13 inches, including handle.

Illustrated, each$2.25 to $2.75

No. 2

No. 23

No. 64

Mexico's tall mountain peaks, surrounded by broad expanses of plain, have their counterparts in miniature in the Mexican Sombrero, with its tall crown and wide brim, and it would be difficult to tell which would most claim the attention or excite the admiration and comment of the traveler, mountain and plain, or sombrero. You should see the first and possess the other. You must go to the mountain. We can send the sombrero to you.

We list some of the most popular styles, as follows:

MEXICAN ONYX GOODS.

FROM PUEBLA, MEXICO.

The beautiful onyx found near the City of Puebla, on the old wagon road between the City of Mexico and Vera Cruz, is utilized by the Indians in the manufacture of a great variety of articles—paper weights, inkstands, clusters of fruit, etc., all of which are exquisitely finished. The material is handsomely variegated, susceptible of a high polish, and is so much esteemed that it has been used in the interior decoration of many of the finest public buildings in Mexico, as well as in the United States and Europe. As the colors are arranged in layers, very fine cameos may be cut from it, and it is often used for this purpose. For table tops and ornamental work nothing is more elegant.

To one not acquainted with Indian work it seems almost incredible that with absolutely no machinery and only a few tools of the rudest description, such results could be obtained as are seen in some of the more elaborately wrought pieces. Yet such is the case, and withal the man who executes the most intricate design is so illiterate that no order can be given him by mail. It is impossible to show the lovely colors by a wood cut, and on account of the difficulty of showing the goods to advantage otherwise, only a single cut has been given, representing a few pieces.

Rag and wax figures can not be sent by mail with safety.

GUADALAJARA POTTERY.

MADE BY THE AZTEC INDIANS IN ANCIENT AND MODERN STYLES.

The pottery made near Guadalajara is more widely known than any other Mexican manufacture. It is light and porous, being made of a peculiar kind of clay not found in any other part of the country, and water kept in it cools by evaporation from the surface of that which passes through the sides of the vessel.

The people who make it are true descendants of the Aztecs, and may really be called a race of potters, as the custom of the country for hundreds of years has been for the son to follow the calling of his father, and they have therefore acquired considerable skill in its manufacture.

The colors are gray or ashes of roses, the natural color of the clay when baked. The better pieces are elaborately decorated in colors and the quaint designs which appear on them are striking.

WATER BOTTLES.

No. 1701

No. 1701, Set of Bottle, Cup and Plate, in gray only, decorated in silver and gold, with Indian paintings in many bright colors. The figures depicted are often grotesque, and include birds, animals, landscapes, etc. This is the finest grade of Indian pottery made, and is such as is in daily use by the wealthier families for water coolers. The shape is correctly shown by the illustration, which will give also some idea of the style of decoration. More or less variation occurs in all the pieces, however, as the work is done entirely by hand. Height about 11 inches; price per set$1.50

No. 1707—Set of bottle, cup and plate, decorated in silver and gold; similar in shape to No. 1701; height ten to eleven inches. Price, per set$1.00

WATER JUGS.

No. 1718.—The odd designs in which these jugs are made are clearly shown by the illustration here presented, representing both the painted jug and the one decorated in silver and gold. They have handles over the top, a large opening on one side through which they are filled, and on the opposite side a spout from which the water is drunk. They are decidedly Mexican, and differ so much from anything seen in our country that they attract much attention. The painted jugs can be supplied in gray only; those decorated in silver and gold in either red, gray or black.

Height 10 to 12 inches; price, painted, 75c each; with silver and gold decoration, $1.00 each.

Silver Filigree Rings, each, 20c to 35c, according to size.

Silver Filigree Jewelry sent prepaid to any address, either by mail or express, on receipt of price.

Gold Filigree made to order only.

We have one hundred different designs in lace pins or brooches; a great variety of hair ornaments, bracelets, etc.

We list only a very small per cent. of the different kinds of filigree that we carry in stock. We can furnish you most anything made in the line of jewelry in filigree, and will be pleased to send the same on approval with the privilege of returning and exchanging or refunding money for such as you do not wish to keep.

At the time of the invasion of Mexico by the Spaniards, the manufacture of jewelry had attained the highest perfection among the Aztecs, whose skill was admitted to be unrivaled by Europeans. The native jewelers were organized into a guild, and possessed the knowledge of working the metal in certain forms absolutely unknown in Europe. Since the conquest the art has been none the less cultivated than in former times, and designs as beautiful as those which excited the admiration of the Spaniards are still wrought by workmen with as great cunning as that of their ancestors 400 years ago.

ANTIQUITIES.

Old Aztec Pottery and Idols, and Stone Axes and other Antiquities. Prices quoted on application.

MISCELLANEOUS INDIAN WORK.

Pima and Maricopa Indian Baskets, each$1.00 to $10.00

Genuine Indian Burnt Clay Pipes, various odd designs, each....25c

If sent by mail add 5c each for postage.

INDIAN WAR CLUBS.

Indian War Clubs, the club being a stone encased in raw hide, and the handle wood encased in raw hide and partly beaded and tipped with an ox tail; each$ 1.00

INDIAN BEAD WORK.

We are getting a limited supply of this work from the Indians of New Mexico and Arizona, but the demand is often in excess of the supply, and we cannot at all times fill an order for a specified article at a specified price. We therefore suggest that our customers in ordering Indian Bead Work allow us to substitute articles of the same class as ordered, the exact article ordered not being in stock. Substituted articles if not satisfactory, can be returned to us free of expense for exchange, credit or refund of money paid.

TOBACCO BAGS.

Made of Buckskin and partly or fully beaded in colors or Indian designs, adapted to use as ladies belt purses or chatelaines. Prices according to size, amount of beading, etc. By mail, post paid, each, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, and $2.00.

CRAVATS.

BELTS OR GIRDLES.

Made entirely of Bead Work in colors and fancy designs, about 1 1-2 inches wide and from 24 to 29 inches long. By mail, post paid, each, $1.00 to $2.50.

The same, round or cord shaped, about twice the length of the first described. Bead tasselled end. By mail, post paid,, each, $1.00 to $2.50.

BEADED WATCH FOBS.

Made entirely of bead work in colors, about 1 1-2 inches wide and 6 inches long; bead tasselled end. Adapted to use as a watch fob and is very neat. By mail, post paid, each, 80c.

Aside from what we have listed we get from the Indians such articles of bead work as their needs, customs or fancies may lead them to make, but not with sufficient regularity to justify us in listing them.

INDIAN MOCCASINS.

Genuine Apache Indian Moccasins. Uppers made of Indian tanned buckskin, beaded. Bottoms made of raw hide. Each, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, and $3.00.

We have difficulty in getting enough of these Apache Moccasins to fill our orders, and still greater difficulty in getting the sizes we need and have calls for. So we arranged to have a full line of Indian Moccasins made for us on American lasts, nicely ornamented, that fit and are very durable and practical, as follows:

Indian Moccasins, Buckskin, fancy stitched, with Buckskin fringe,

Babies' sizes, 1 to 5, per pair	$.75

Native Wool Navajo Rugs or Blankets, sizes about 4 1-2 by 6 1-2 to 6 3-4 x 8 1-2 feet; each ..$18.75 to $47.50

MADE OF GERMANTOWN YARN.

Rugs—Sizes about 21 x 35 inches to 30 x 40 inches, each$5.75 to $9.00

Rugs—Sizes about 2 1-2x4 feet to 2 3-4x5 feet; each, $10.75 to $22.00

Rugs, Couch Covers, Slumber Robes, Portieres, etc., sizes about 3 1-4x5 1-2 feet to 4x6 feet, each$23.00 to $33.00

Rugs, Couch Covers, Slumber Robes, Portieres, etc., sizes about 4x7 feet to 6x8 feet, each$34.00 to $75.00

Intricacy of design being the same, size and weight govern in price, but a small blanket with an intricate design will cost more than a larger one with a less complicated design. The designs woven in Navajo Blankets are odd, original and very typical, and as no two blankets are precisely alike, the purchaser is sure to get an exclusive design.

Sizes and prices given above are approximate only, taken from blankets that happen to be in stock as this is being prepared. Descriptions of goods on hand will be cheerfully given at any time by letter, as it is impracticable to list these blankets on account of the difficulty in duplicating sizes and patterns.

These blankets were made by the Indians primarily for saddle blankets, bed blankets, etc., but their usefulness is greatly extended in our homes where they are used and highly prized for rugs, couch covers, slumber robes, portieres, etc.

The Navajo Indian Reservation, where the Navajo blankets are made, is located in the northeastern part of Arizona and north-western part of New Mexico. The Navajo Indians raise their own sheep and from the wool spin the yarn from which most of the blankets are made. Some of the blankets, requiring finer yarn than they themselves can produce, are made from Germantown yarn, furnished the Indians by the traders.

MESCALERO APACHE INDIAN BASKETS.

The Mescalero Apaches, by whom these baskets are made, are a small tribe of about 400 Apache Indians, occupying a reservation in Southern New Mexico, about 150 miles from El Paso, Texas. A few years ago this tribe was living in a savage state; now they have adopted the dress of civilization, are industrious and practically self-supporting. After the labor of procuring the basket material the work of construction begins. Their basket is distinct and original, being made entirely of soap weed. It is a coiled basket, the filling being made of the less flexible tissue of the plant. These baskets are of various shapes and designs, most of the latter being taken from nature, and all symbolize something to the Indian woman who so patiently and dexterously forms them. In making these baskets, four colors are employed, ivory white, brown, yellow and green. These colors are fadeless, being produced by natural processes known only to the Indians.

The star seen in the above illustrated baskets, is copied from the famous Ramona basket, and is a favorite design with the basket weavers. These Indian baskets are not only artistic and decorative, but useful as well. For photo receivers, work baskets, waste baskets and jardinières they are unsurpassed. We are headquarters for these baskets. Being near the reservation our facilities for obtaining them are the best. We can furnish them in prices ranging from $1.00 to $10.00.

These baskets will be sent out with the privilege of returning if not perfectly satisfactory, and money refunded or goods exchanged. Further particulars given if desired.

SIEMPRE VIVA, OR RESURRECTION PLANT.

RESURRECTION PLANT CLOSED.

The peculiar plant to which this suggestive name has been applied, belongs to the moss family, and is really one of the wonders of the vegetable kingdom. It is found only in hot, dry countries, where it grows in the crevices of the rocks on the mountain sides, the best plants coming from the summits of the highest mountains. For the greater part of the year it is curled up into a little ball resembling dead grass or moss, but when the rainy season begins it opens out green and beautiful, remaining in this condition as long as supplied with moisture. When the rains cease it curls up and apparently dies, but re-opens when the next shower falls, alternately opening and closing an indefinite number of times as it becomes wet or dry. From this quality of being revived or “resurrected” by water, it has been very appropriately named the Resurrection Plant. The Mexicans call it “flor de peña” or rock flower, because after a rain the rocks on which the plants grow seem to be covered with green flowers, springing from the rocks as if by magic. No plant can be found better adapted for rockeries, as by studding the work thickly with the plants and spraying with water the work can be quickly turned into a mass of green, while the water may be turned off at any time and the plants allowed to dry up, in which condition they may be left any length of time. Single specimens may be opened by placing them in a dish of water; after a few hours the branches will begin to spread out and turn green. When it is desired to close the plant place it in the sun or dry out by the stove. They can be re-opened as often as desired.

We import these plants direct from their native mountains in Mexico. Prices by mail, post paid, 10c each. Special quotations given, on application, to dealers desiring to purchase in large quantities.
